

The Magic Touch has a strong commitment to ensuring that all suppliers support high ethical and health and safety standards in all practices. The transfer papers are produced in the UK, Germany and Japan where all operators are highly skilled to ensure consistent quality control on all products. All employees involved in production are paid well in excess of the respective countries minimum wages. At no stage in either the production or distribution of the transfer papers is there any involvement of child or forced labour. The Magic Touch transfer papers do not involve the use of any toxic or solvent based products, helping to reduce the impact on the environment.
