

RUSSELL SINCE 1902 COLLECTION

We are committed to conducting our business in accordance with the highest standard of business ethics and respect for human rights, and in compliance with all applicable laws. We require our suppliers, licensees, distributors and other business partners to meet these standards. We have taken positive action within our supply chain to minimise the impact of our environmental footprint. As further proof of our commitment to having the highest ethical standards, we adhere to the WRAP principles to ensure lawful, humane and ethical manufacturing throughout the world. As a company committed to the respect for human rights, we only use ethically produced yarn to manufacture our garments.
